

Mrs Madden's Class News

Friday 27th September 2019

This Week...

- In Phonics we learned the phonemes (sounds) i, n, m, d and learned the tricky word 'the'. We played 'Splat' identifying words which contain the sounds we have learned so far; eg. sat, in, pin, tap, pip, it, nap etc.
- In maths we practised recognising numbers and identifying the number which is one more.
- In our topic work we found out about the names and use of different body parts through songs, games, rhymes and stories. We hope you enjoyed our poem and song at the MacMillan coffee afternoon if you were able to attend.

Next Week...

- In Phonics we will practise segmenting and blending the sounds we have learned so far. We will spend time practising our cursive letter formation and writing our names cursorily.
- In Maths we will be measuring how long our hands and feet are using cubes.
- In Literacy we will practise writing simple sentences using our phonic knowledge.
- In our topic work we think about being healthy. We will think about healthy food and keeping active. We will also continue our Cosmic Yoga activities and listen to meditation stories.

More News...

- Just a reminder about the Middlewich Guardian being in school Monday 7th October to take the 'Reception Class' photo which will be published in the newspaper. Please ensure that your data collection sheets are returned to school ASAP if you haven't already sent it in. Children will not be allowed on the photo if we haven't had the permission granted on these sheets. If you have any queries about this please speak to Mrs Evans who has more information.
- Parents evening times will go out next week. If you haven't returned your slip please do ASAP but be aware many times have already been allocated.

Have a wonderful and safe weekend, Mrs Madden ☺
