

Cheating!

A 'Let's Read Together!' Book

A couple of weeks ago, Mr Philips announced that we would be having a weekly spelling test. Some children were pleased, some children were worried.

Jake was worried but he had a plan. He was going to sneak into the classroom and copy down the words for the following week's test, then keep it in his pencil case and use it to help him in the test.

Q1: What does Mr Philips announce to the class?

Q2: What is Jake's plan?

---

I studied for a little while but then I decided it was too difficult. I phoned Jake to tell him that I would join him and we'd cheat on the test together. Sam could hear everything we said!

At lunchtime, Gabi, Lily and Sam sneaked into Mr Philips' classroom and switched the real test for Gabi's fake test. Then, Jake and I copied the words from the fake test, not realising that we were being tricked!

Q3: Why do you think Kit decided to cheat?

Q4: Would you cheat if you were in Kit? Why or why not?

---

---

When the time came to take the test, Jake and I soon realised that we had the wrong answers written on the lists in our pencil cases. There was nothing we could do. We just had to try our best!
