Barbecue Stew

A 'Let's Read Together!' Book

Mum, Dad, Kit and Sam were going to have a barbecue for Mum's birthday. The wind grew too strong and blew the barbecue over!

“We will have to come up with a different plan,” said Dad as the wind blew.

Kit had a thought. “We could cook some barbecue stew!” he said.

They had to get a few new things to make the barbecue stew. Sam drew them on some paper and Dad went to the shop to collect them.

Dad got back. Kit and Sam began to chop the carrots and meat. Then, they threw them into the stew pan.

They had to let the stew boil and brew until it got thicker. Kit and Sam gave Mum the first chew of their stew because it was her birthday.

Mum was a fan of her barbecue stew. “We have some new cooks in the house!” she said. “I am glad the wind made us make a different plan.”
