

Mrs Madden's Class News

Friday 6th December 2024

This week...

... has been an extremely busy one!

We've all written our letters to Father Christmas, completed lots of Christmas Maths and Christmas Phonics activities. The children have been busy decorating the home corner with Christmas sparkle.

I have to let you know that I've been a very proud teacher this week. The children are all trying so hard with their writing and pencil control skills. Looking at the progress from when they were in Nursery to now in Reception has been wonderful to see. I treated them to biscuits during Friday mornings snack time as a special reward!

We've also been finalising the Christmas concert and we look forward to performing it to you next week.

Next week...

We will perform our Nativity, go to the pantomime - Oh, yes we will! We'll finish our Christmas cards and write about a special dragon called Edgar!

Have a wonderful weekend,

Mrs Madden 😊
