

Mrs Madden's Class News

Friday 7th March 2025

There's been so much to learn about this week; Pancake Day, St David's Day as well as World Book Day!

The children have been busy making and serving pancakes in our 'The Pancake Café' role play area. We talked about why we traditionally have pancakes and discussed Lent. There have been many pancake themed activities available across the week, including making and eating our own pancakes on Tuesday!

We enjoyed trying Bara Brith and Welsh Cakes, it was lovely to see some children who were initially reluctant to try them go on to have two or three pieces! Thanks to one of our reception mums for buying them for us!

World Book Day was yet another fun filled day; the children looked fantastic and we appreciate your efforts with their outfits/costumes. The best quote when I asked why it's important to read was.... "The more you read, the cleverer you'll be."

Wise words from a 5-year-old! Keep reading!!

I hope you all have a wonderful weekend!

Take care,
Mrs Madden
